Commissioner Newman Says It Is Both Distressing · and Disturbing.

EXPECTS REPORT SOON

Prefers Not to Discuss Question as to Whether Moral Wrong-doing Is Involved.

"Serious distressing and disturbing" was the characterization which Commis-sioner Oliver P. Newman yesterday afternoon made of the case of Edgar S. Martim, supervisor of playgrounds, who was suspended last week pending an investi-gation into the affairs of his office. The statement was made late in the afternoon, following a meeting of the Board of Commissioners held to discuss ous phases of the situation.

From what has developed so far, the ase appears very, very serious, indeed," aid Mr. Newman. "In fact, it is both distressing and disturbing. The details have just been unfolded to me. I am entering upon the consideration of the case with an open mind, and it will be everal days before any decision in the is conducting the investigation into the affairs of Mr. Martin's office, and who has temporary charge of the piaygrounds work, submitted to the Commissioners a preliminary report setting forth what has been revealed so far by the investigation. The Commissioners would not discuss specifically the nature of the findings. When asked whether the investigation to far had revealed whether or not cormal turpitude was involved, Mr. Newcan said be preferred not to discuss be election. He said the investigation will be continued and probably will be concluded within two or three days. A final report then will be submitted to the oners for action.

Mai. Pullman Present.

Present yesterday at the meeting of the board of Commissioners were Maj. Raymond W. Pullman, superintendent of police: Conrad H. Syme, corporation counsel: Daniel J. WEATHER COPDITIONS.

WEATHER COPDITIONS.

For the District of Columbia and Marriand: Partly cloudy Tuesday. Wednesday fair: not much change in temperature: light variable winds.

The general pressure distribution has undergone no appreciable change since the last report, and as a result warm weather prevails generally over the great central valleys, the region of the Great Lakes, and the Southern and Eastern States, except on the North Atlantic coast. Unusually warm weather prevailed throughout the Middle Atlantic States, the region of the Great Lakes, and the Ohio Valley, and previous records of high temperature for the mouth of April were broken at the following points Monday afternoon: Washington, D. C., and Richmond, Va., 94 degrees: Toledo, Ohio, 99 degrees: Grand Rapids, Mich., Cincinnati, Ohio, and Elkins, W. Va., 88 degrees; Port Huron, Mich., 86 degrees, and Green Ray, Wis., 84 degrees. The previous records for high temperature at Albany, N. Y., 88 degrees, and Stracuse, N. Y., 84 degrees, were equalled Monday afternoon. There have been widely scattered showers within the last twenty-four hours in the Plains States, the Upper Mississippl and Upper Ohio valless, Pennsylvania and New England, but over other parts of the country the weather remained fair.

With the exception of local showers in the Upper Mississippi Valles and the Upper Lake region, the weather will be generally fair throughout the country during Tuesday and Wedlewells.
